LOCAL EVENTS.

Mysterious Disappearance of a Saloon Keeper.

A WOMAN HORRIBLY BURNED

Two Chinamen Killed by a Hand-Car—Tourist Travel and Other Interesting Information.

Martin Hanson, who has for the last eighteen months been running a saloon down stairs on the corner of Los Angeles and Commercial streets, disappeared mysteriously day before yesterday. Martin calls his saloon the Scandinavian Headquarters and it is said to enjoy a reputation in the locality which is not very creditable to the Norsemen who frequent it. Sunday morning the saloon was found closed, which was so unusual a proceeding that some of his creditors began to make investigation. Early yesterday morning an attachment was issued from Justice Taney's Court and Deputy Constable Harry Johnson was detailed to serve it. The store was broken open and the stock and fixtures were found to be of little value, not enough to cover the attachment, which was for $65, in behalf of Eyraud Brothers, wine merchants, who are his landlords. Late in the day a warrant was issued for Hanson's arrest in Justice Austin's Court, it appearing that there were good grounds for the charge of embezzlement against the missing man. A number of creditors were found to whom he owed considerable sums, in some cases borrowed and in others by the purchase of goods. It is stated that he must have got away with nearly a thousand dollars. There is no suspicion as to his probable whereabouts although there is a possibility that he may return and set everything straight.

BADLY BURNED.

A Woman Tries to Increase a Fire with Coal Oil.

Ellen Kober, a middle-aged woman, living at 40½ Buena Vista street, was badly burned yesterday by the explosion of a large can of coal oil. About 11 o'clock in the morning Miss Kober noticed that the fire in the little cook stove was getting low, and wishing to rekindle it for dinner, she undertook to use the dangerous help of some coal oil. The can was of five-gallon size, and contained only a small amount of oil. Removing the stove lid she began to pour directly out of the can upon the smouldering heap of coals. There was a flash and a deafening explosion, and the unfortunate woman was covered with the flaming oil. Her friend who occupied the apartments with her was in an adjoining room and ran instantly to her aid. The flames were extinguished, but not until frightful burns had been inflicted upon her arms, face and neck. The sleeves and shoulders of her sack were burned away, but her dress fortunately did not take fire else she would probably not have escaped with her life. The amount of oil in the can was small and failed to set fire to the building. A doctor was immediately sent for and the woman's wounds dressed. They are of a serious character, yet not fatal. As the oil can was blown to fragments it is merely a chance that the woman still lives.

TWO LESS.

A Couple of Chinamen Killed Near Mojave.

Yesterday morning a section gang of Chinamen, employed by the Southern Pacific, left Mojave on a hand-car bound for Lancaster. They had with them a live hog and "Dennis" lay squealing on the front of the car as they sped along, joking in the flowery language of the Yang-tse-Kiang about the repast they intended to have from Mr. Porker's ribs. As they were descending one of the sharp grades that characterize that part of the country the hog got loose and fell from the car across the track. So fast were they going that the car was thrown from the track and two of the Chinamen were killed instantly. Their remains were taken to the nearest station, when the news was at once telegraphed to this city.

TOURIST TRAVEL.

More Accommodations by the S. P. Company.

The following circular was received yesterday at the Southern Pacific offices in this city:

SAN FRANCISCO, October 5th.

A tourist sleeping car line for the accommodation of second-class passengers will be established about the 10th inst. between San Francisco, Oakland and El Paso. A porter will accompany these cars on train No. 19 from Oakland and train No. 20 from El Paso, who will be under control (en route) of train conductors. Porters will wear a designated uniform when on duty and will keep the cars in order, sweeping, dusting out, etc. They will be held responsible for the curtains and bedding supplied for each car by Mr. Eli Denison, collecting such rentage as he may make for use of same by passengers. In locating passengers, ladies, as far as possible, will be seated at the ladies' toilet-room end of the car.

Smoking will not be allowed in these cars. T. H. GOODMAN,
General Passenger and Ticket Agent.

Hurt His Hand.

The 9-year-old boy of Mr. J. E. Hartell, the jovial conductor on the Santa Barbara run, met with an unfortunate accident last week. He had a 44 cartridge in his left hand and foolishly applied a lighted match to it. The result was an explosion and the youth had his hand completely sliced open. The surgeons cannot tell yet how much of the lacerated flesh will have to be removed, but it is probable that the index finger will have to be amputated.

A Complete Change.

The general offices in this city of the Monrovia Rapid Transit road, which have hitherto been in the Baker Block, are now removed to the ticket station on Aliso street. A part of the capacious chamber there has been barred off for office accommodation and the rest remains as before, a waiting-room for the general public.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Evangeline" and Her "Heifer" at the Grand.

Half an hour before the curtain rose at the Grand last night the box-office was adorned with a sign bearing the legend, "Standing Room Only." The auditorium was packed in all its parts. From the footlights to the doors, and the galleries and all the boxes were filled until the admission of another person was impossible. And the audience one of the most select that ever gathered in the beautiful temple of Thespis, was enthusiastic to an unwonted pitch. The fun on the stage proved most contagious and all parts of the house quickly "caught on" and made the house ring with peal after peal of laughter and cheer after cheer of applause. Nor was the enjoyment all merely of the burlesque production. There is a whole world of pretty music in Evangeline. It is rendered by fine voices perfectly trained. Fay Templeton is no stranger to the play-goers of the city, and she sings with the same old-time freshness of voice, spirit and sentiment as of yore. She is most charmingly paired with Louise Montague, one of the prettiest women on the stage. She has a rich, sweet voice which she uses with much skill. In the comedy lines it would be difficult to match such a trio as Geo. K. Fortesque, who, as "Aunt Catherine," is a whole show in himself; Jas. S. Maffitt, the original "Lone Fisherman," and Geo. S. Knight, as "Captain Deitrich." With these is Edwin Morris, "The Chief of Police," and several other comedians of no small repute. Then there is the filling in of the piece by a dozen as pretty girls as wear tights—and Oh, my, what lovely costumes they do wear, to be sure! The Amazon march is as pretty a piece of color on the stage as one will see anywhere. The calcium lights are handled with fine effect in all parts of the piece, as well as in this march. The scenery is all that imagination can desire. It presents as pretty a series of spectacles as may be seen in any play in the Union.

Evangeline has "caught on in great shape" as the gods aloft all said when leaving the theatre last night. It holds the board all the week, and play-goers wishing to attend will do well to secure seats at once. And now one word about the programme: Last week it was printed in red ink, and any one at all posted in the use of printer's ink knows that of this bright particular hue the king's words in Hamlet are true—its "offense is rank, it smells to heaven." This week the ink is black, and the olfactories are spared; but the paper is red. The printer seems to have the eye of a bull or turkey gobbler and will have something red in it at all risks. While the nostrils are spared the eyes are tried. "Black on red" is about the most inartistic combination known to the "art preservative." It requires good light and good eyes to read. Will the printer be merciful to playgoers and spare the red ink and red paper? It is hoped that when he has read this he will take the hint, give us another tint, please us without stint, and of the abuse let us say "reform it altogether."

The Circus.

It is not alone the oldest readers who can remember the "Circus and Menagerie" as periodically exhibited not so many years back. A company of fifty or, at the most, sixty people was considered as being a phenomenally large one, and if the diameter of the canvas reached one hundred feet, "the wonder was and still the wonder grew." There are more people employed as advertisers, agents, bill-posters, etc., ahead of the show of the present day than constituted the entire company—performers, grooms, hostlers, canvasmen and agents of the not very remote period of which we are speaking. Yet the tented exhibitions of the present day are graded in their dimensions as well as in their merits and attractions. Sells' circus will be here on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

MR. McCOY'S STATEMENT.

The Story in the "Express" an Infamous Falsehood.

EDITORS HERALD—There appears in the Express of this date an article in which my name and that of Mr. Sidney Lacey are used without any warrant of fact. The statements contained in the Express are utterly false in their bearing and intent. The facts are simply these: An acquaintance of mine, James MacDonald, came to me this morning and told me there was a party in jail charged with disturbing the peace, whom he wished to have released on bail, but that neither he nor his friend had the necessary money. I told him I was a little short of funds at the moment, but would try to fix the matter for him. I went and borrowed the money from a friend, and then called at Mr. Lacey's office, which was on the way to the court, and asked Sidney to go with me to Taney's court, which he did. He did not know for what he was going. I told Taney what I wanted. He asked me the name of the prisoner, and I had to go out and find McDonald to learn the name of his friend. He told me Clara Smith, and I reported to the Justice, who gave an order to release her on bail. We went to the Sheriff's office to get the order countersigned, but the Sheriff refused to do so unless the Justice took the money which the Sheriff would not allow the Jailer to receive. Deputy Sanchez went to Taney's Court and the Justice took the money and made out another order. The change was given to Mr. Lacey by mistake and he afterwards returned it to me. As to the woman, neither Mr. Lacey nor myself saw her, nor did we, or either of us procure a hack for her use, or send her to the Romona lodging house, or to any other place, or have anything to do in her behalf beyond what is stated heretofore, and that was for McDonald and not for any interest we have in her; in fact neither Mr. Lacey nor myself know the woman in any way. Neither of us could recognize her if we met her in the street. Any statements in the Express or elsewhere at all in conflict with these above are infamous and and malicious falsehoods.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Supt. Baldwin's Position on Paving First Street.

THE NEW CHARTER ELECTION.

Measures Adopted to Prevent a Loss to the City on Street Grading Contracts.

The City Council met yesterday, President Humphreys in the chair, and Councilmen Mathews, Moriarty, Hanley, Book, Cohn, Gibbs, Collins, Teed and Hiller present.

Mayor Workman recommended that the people of the East side and Boyle Heights be accommodated with walks across the river while the bridges are being built. Received and filed, as the work has already been ordered by the Board of Public Works.

The property owners on Los Angeles street asked permission to pave the street between Commercial street and First. Granted.

Governor Downey asked permission to pave Main street in front of his property. Granted.

The Superintendent of streets reported as follows, in relation to the contract for paving First street, the condition of which has been published in the HERALD:

GENTLEMEN—I have to report as follows in the matter of paving First street: On the 14th ult. your clerk published a notice to the effect that your honorable body had awarded the contract for the work to one Sheerer. Within two or three days thereafter one Austin presented himself to my office, claiming to represent those who own the majority of the frontage on First street, bteween the points you had ordered improved, and presented a contract with said parties by which he had agreed to do the work at a fixed price, all the losses to be born by him, and which empowered him to enter into a contract with me, as Superintendent of Streets, and to assign the same. He also filed his oath as agent of said parties. Upon inspection I informed him that I did not believe his power of attorney was such as to bind his principals to the performance of the work. He insisted that the powers were ample and declined to annoy his principals for any other power of attorney which would give him power to bind them in a bond which would enable the city to recover the amount thereof in case he should abandon the work. This I wanted in express terms, such being the object of the bond in my opinion under the Vrooman act; otherwise, why the necessity of a bond?

At a later date the awardee of the contract, Sheerer, filed in my office a paper purporting to be the withdrawal of parties to Austin's power, owning a number of feet front on First street sufficient to reduce his representation to less than a majority.

Meanwhile I had filed out a bond for Mr. Austin which I thought would cover the case, and on the 22d, taking a form of his power of attorney, I told him that I would consult my attorney and if he approved his power of attorney I would enter into a contract with him on Monday, the 24th, that being the last day of the ten days allowed by law for me to do so.

My attorney believed with me that the power of attorney was insufficient. The City Attorney was kind enough to furnish me with his opinion as to the requirements of a power of attorney from property holders, and I found that in most particulars he agreed with my attorney and that Austin's power did not come up to what was necessary. On the 24th ult. he declined to enter into a contract with said Austin and he gave me to understand that he would sue out a writ of mandamus from the Superior Court for me so to do. From the 24th ult. to the 1st inst. I stood ready to contract with the awardee Sheerer, but he failed to present a bond fixed by His Honor the Mayor, and consequently nothing was done in the matter. On the 1st inst. papers out of the Superior Court, Judge O'Melveny presiding, were served on me to show cause why a writ of mandate should not issue for me to contract with said Austin, which I turned over to the City Attorney.

On the 6th instant the case was heard by Judge O'Melveny, who will in due time pass upon the application of Austin for the aforesaid writ of mandate. I make this report that you may thoroughly understand the facts in the case. The Vrooman Act, so-called, was undoubtedly passed for the protection of property-holders as against combinations of contractors, but it must not be forgotten that when the Hon. Council of a municipality awards a contract, the awardee thereby acquires rights of which he is the more jealous in proportion as they are valuable, and for the defense of which as against any unwarrantable action of a Street Superintendent he stands ready to invoke the protection of the courts. You thus see that had I entered into a contract with Austin, I would in all likelihood have had to answer Sheerer in the courts. Furthermore, should Austin, for reasons of his own, acting under said contract, see fit to abandon the work, and should the city in consequence attempt to collect the bond at law, it might suffer a non-suit, which, of course, would be a reflection, not on the City Attorney, but upon the Superintendent of Streets. Respectfully submitted.

JOHN M. BALDWIN,
Superintendent of Streets.

The City Attorney requested that the protest of Wm. Lacy et al. against an elevated railroad be filed. Adopted.

The matter of the building of a storm water drain was referred to the City Engineer to determine the amount of property benefited, so that an assessment can be levied for the cost of construction.

The City Surveyor reported upon various matters referred to him.

The Finance Committee recommended that $200 be returned to the Turf and Grain Exchange as a rebate. The Exchange had paid for a three months' license and had only run two months. The recommendation was adopted.

Also recommended that the Superintendent of Streets award no contracts for grading streets until the property owners guaranteed the city against all loss.

Mr. Cohn said that the probability was that the city might be out about $180,000 for street work if the award of contracts for grading went on.

City Attorney Daly suggested that all petitions for street grading be referred to the Street Superintendent in the first place. He could make an estimate of the cost, and could recommend the streets that should be or should not be graded. This recommendation was adopted.

Mr. Chandler moved that the Street Superintendent be allowed a clerk to figure up the cost of paving, grading, etc. Carried.

Afternoon Session.

Mr. Kelly, Secretary of the Board of Education, appeared and asked that the Board be allowed to erect a school building on a lot on the corner of Chestnut and Hoff streets, which had been set aside for school purposes. On motion of Mr. Hanley a lot was set aside in the location named.

Mr. T. E. Rowan appeared and stated that he and Mr. Macy had been appointed to confer with the Council in relation to the stamping out of the glanders, which he said was very prevalent in the city. He asked that the use of watering troughs be forbidden for a time until the disease had been stamped out. He also asked that the county officers be informed of all cases and then they would be taken care of.

Mr. Chandler moved that the Street Superintendent remove the public watering troughs. Carried.

The rest of the matter was referred to the Board of Health to co-operate with the Supervisors.

THE CHARTER ELECTION.

A resolution calling a special election on October 20th for deciding upon the adoption of the new Charter was read.

A communication was received from the Workingmen's Union requesting the appointment of the following as judges at the election: First Ward, Henry M. Jones; second Ward, Wm. H. Dodge; Third Ward, A. Cole; Fourth Ward, R. H. Rudolf; Fifth Ward, L. Wolff.

Fifth Ward—Polling place at car stables, corner Main and Washington; Judges, J. Frankenfield, Chas. Parcels; Inspector, Wm. L. Wolff.

The report of the Board of Public Works as published in the HERALD on Sunday last, was read and adopted.

An ordinance providing for the closing of saloons at midnight was read.

Mr. Chandler wanted the City Attorney to give him an idea as to the right of the city to close the saloons at certain hours.

Mr. Dunn said that the Supreme Court had decided that they could be shut up entirely. The Council had a right to regulate the saloons.

The motion to adopt the ordinance was lost by a vote of 5 to 5, Messrs. Cohn, Collins, Gibbs, Hanley and Moriarty voting against it.

Mr. Hiller gave notice that he would move to reconsider the vote next Monday, but he was informed that he could not, having voted on the wrong side.

The Fire Commissioners reported in favor of purchasing three horses. Referred to Finance Committee.

A contract with the Black Diamond Coal Company to supply the city with coal for a year was laid over for a bond.

The Sewer Committee reported the petition of Mr. T. Mesmer as filed since the city will do the work of sewering Fort street itself.

Resolutions of intention to grade Hoff street, to sewer Fort street from Temple street south, were read and adopted.

Resolutions to establish the grades of Macy street, Hinton avenue, Bunker Hill avenue, Hill street, Judson street were read and adopted.

A resolution abandoning a portion of Smith street, was read and adopted.

The Committee on Gas recommended the erection of an electric light mast on the corner of Brooklyn avenue and Pacific street. Adopted.

The City Attorney asked for additional help in drawing resolutions for sewers for the city. Laid over for a week.

Proposals for building a sewer on Alameda street, were received from T. F. George, J. J. Mahoney and Frick Bros.; for sewer on First street from E. C. Burlingame and Frick Bros. Referred to Sewer Committee.

The Sewer Committee was instructed to reconstruct the sewer on First street between Main and Los Angeles.

Mr. Cohn moved that the Land Committee be instructed to lease the city lands. Laid over for one week.

The Council then adjourned.

THE OCCIDENTAL.

Dedication of the Presbyterian University.

ITS FINANCIAL CONDITION.

An Elegant Address by Dr. Wheeler of Sacramento—The Exercises.

On the 20th of September, 1887, a number of residents of this city journeyed to the East Side, where, on a beautiful slope just outside of the city limits, was laid the corner-stone of the Occidental University. Yesterday another congregation was summoned to the same spot, though this time on a far different errand, for the building which a year ago existed only on the builder's charts has assumed a more tangible shape, and now holds its own with the architectural beauties of the county. It is excellently located with a commanding view of Los Angeles to the east while in the opposite direction fertile plains stretch far away to where the stern Sierras wall in this land, not of promise, but of fulfilment. The structure, which is built after the Elizabethian style, is of brick, three stories and basement and covers a plot 68 by 65 feet. On entering the main door from the west one steps into a capacious hall from which on the right opens a class-room, while in front is an elegantly furnished parlor which serves as a general reception room. Beyond this are the private apartments of Dr. Weller, the President of the institution, a study, chapel and the directors room. The next floor is devoted principally to a magnificent study hall, capable of accommodating 300 pupils, and lighted by seven large windows from the west. It is bordered on all sides by recitation, library and reading rooms, and around all runs a wide corridor from which stair casses lead to the third floor, It is used for domitories and there are nineteen beautiful apartments thoroughly lighted and ventilated, besides a well appointed lavatory and bathroom, supplied with hot and cold water. These sleeping chambers are for the female students, as the boys are to be quartered in cottages that are to be erected in the college grounds, after the style of the old-fashioned dame's houses. The University is under the care of the Presbyterians, though it announces that its instruction will be evangelical rather than sectarian. D. S. H. Weller, who has engineered the project from its inception has done marvellous work, and the lavish praise which was poured upon him yesterday was certainly well deserved. That the University is in good hands is evident by the following list of the directors and the faculty:

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Second Class—Term expires, January, 1889. Rev. W. C. Stevens, J. G. Bell, J. F. Crank.

Third Class—Term expires, January, 1890. Jas. R. Boal, Rev. W. S. Young, Rev. S. H. Weller.

Fourth Class—Term expires, January, 1891. E. S. Field, Edwin Baxter, Thos. R. Bard

Fifth Class—Term expires, January, 1892. Rev. W. J. Chichester, O. S. Picher, D. E. Miles.

First Class—Term expires, January, 1898. Lyman Stewart, Edwin A. Saxton, J. C. Salisbury.

CORPS OF INSTRUCTORS.

Rev. S. H. Weller, D. D., President and Professor of Moral Science and Mental Philosophy.

John M. Coyner, Ph. D., Vice-President and Professor of Natural Science.

J. M. McPherron, A. M., Professor of Mathematics.

Rev. N. Saunders, A. M., Professor of Languages.

Rev. John A. Gordon, D. D., Professor of English Literature and Belles-lettres.

Mrs. M. L. Stevens, Lady Principal and Teacher of Latin.

Rev. Carlos Bransby, A. M., Instructor in Spanish.

Herr Arnold Kutner, Instructor in German.

Miss Asbury Kent, Instructor in Piano and Voice Culture.

Miss Kate Fraser, Instructor in Painting and Drawing.

Mrs. E. F. Weller, Matron.

YESTERDAY'S SERVICES.

On Tuesday, September 11th, the university opened its doors for the reception of students, and since that time Dr. Weller has been busy arranging for the dedication services, which were performed yesterday. Invitations had been issued inviting all persons interested to attend, and the result was that the capacious class-room was well filled when the summons that the exercises were about to begin went forth. Dr. Weller, as President of the University, took the chair and announced that the proceedings would commence with a musical recitation by Miss Kent. This young lady proved to be an accomplished pianist, and the few minutes she passed at the keys were heartily enjoyed by all. Dr. Weller then advanced to the speaker's table to make a business statement regarding the University. He spoke of the many difficulties that were met since the day, thirty months ago, when the erection of the University was decided upon. A good deal of worry, disappointment, hard work and personal sacrifice had been demanded, and as a result of his experience, he offered three rules for the guidance of those who in the future should engage in a similar project: Firstly—Study the personnel of the syndicate on whose promises you rely for funds; secondly, do not trust anybody; and thirdly, have a bank account which shall duplicate dollar for dollar the contractor's claims before a brick has been laid or a spadeful of earth turned.

"It is the intention of the directors," said the speaker, "to carpet all the halls and furnish the different rooms in an attractive manner, and to complete the work $2,000 is yet needed. This, it is expected can be raised from private sources, or if not the University can realize the amount needed from sales of its surrounding property. A fund has been set apart for furnishing a laboratory, and a lady has offered to furnish the library and reading-room. At the present time there is accommodation for fifty boarders in the University, and a row of cottages is to be erected on the east side of the campus. It was conceived to be a good idea to obtain a school in the heart of the city which should serve as a feeder to the University, and with this object in view overtures were commenced which resulted in the purchase of the McPherron Academy. This subordinate institution has at the present time sixty-six pupils, and in the two schools seven salaried teachers are employed at an expense of a little $7000 per annum. Up to the present time $25,000 has been expended and in making the final payment on the property it was necessary to borrow $8000 for two years, but as the University owns forty-one lots and twenty-three acres close by this debt is fully secured."

Dr. Weller then spoke of the water system and how difficult it had been to perfect it, adding that it was now a great success, both as regards quantity, quality and pressure.

DR. WHEELER'S ADDRESS.

At the conclusion of the President's remarks the Misses Reberts sang a duet in Spanish and then Dr. Weller introduced in glowing language the Rev. J. E. Wheeler, D. D., of Sacramento, one of the ablest clerics in the State. This gentleman gave an admirable impromptu address, speaking logically and forcibly and deeply impressing his interested auditors. In the opening part of his oration he referred to his experiences at Pasadena during the late meeting of the Synod of the Pacific and said that although the powers of rhetoric have reached their limits in the description of this beautiful country, yet one-half has not been said. "Tendency of such a country as this," he said, "is to materialize the man and therefore everything that tends to his intellectual elevation should be hailed with delight. The only noble thing in this world is man and the only thing great in man is his mind. I am glad to see this fine University here to-day, but I doubly rejoice because it is a Christian school, for intellectual culture no matter how high, will not save one from errors moral and social. In fact, these higher instrumentalities without religion are only for evil, and this is well exemplified in Germany, which claimd that its population is the best educates in the world. The percentage of crime there is far in advance of the statistics of crime in France, where there is a larger percentage of illiteracy; and a notable thing about this is that the crime in France is more among the cultivated than among the unlettered class. Education and religion must go hand in hand to produce a good moral element for the best equipped school in the land at the present time is the hotbed of vice and infidelity because religion is discarded in its curriculum. True, infidelity is not advocated, but what does a youth naturally become who goes to a school, year after year, where every book is taught except the Holy Bible."

Dr. Wheeler then spoke upon the desirability of having the University on this coast, and after quoting the words of Milton "a man is effective in so far as he is rational," added that he thought that a man was most effective when he was provincial.

OTHER EXERCISES.

Dr. Wheeler was followed by the Rev. Mr. Adams, who made a very happy address on the necessity of teaching religion in our schools, and this was followed by a vocal solo by Miss Bell, which was rendered in an admirable manner. The dedication prayer was then uttered by the Rev. Dr. Alexander, of the Theological Seminary of San Francisco, after which a vocal duet was given by Miss Betts and Miss Bell, and the exercises were brought to a close by a few remarks by Dr. Frazier, of San Francisco.

"Knowledge is Power," and to know where to buy to the best advantage is a powerful lever in the hinge of a pocket-book. The people generally understand after one or two trials, that, all other things being equal, the proper thing to do on all occasions is to buy where the prices are the lowest. We boast of our ability to buy goods cheap. We buy more goods—taking our eight stores into consideration—than the combined dry goods houses of Los Angeles do in the aggregate, and this not only affects prices, but produces styles which cannot be surpassed outside of Eastern markets. We import direct one-third of all our Dress Goods, giving the purchaser the advantage in every particular. Novelties in Dress Trimmings are constantly arriving. Braids with Milanese effects are new with the season. The Moss Quartz is entirely new. Tinsel Braids, woven and interwoven in a great variety of designs, will be in great demand, and last, but not least, Tinsel Braid interwoven with the old-fashioned Hercules trimmings is brought out again, this time with novel effect. Nothing more suitable for trimming Tricots, Cashmeres or Serges. For bargains of more than ordinary interest, see appended list of Specials.

HOLLENBECK BLOCK,

Cor. second and Spring Sts., Los Angeles, Cal.

All diseases of the respiratory organs treated by the most approved medical inhalations, combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc. We are also now using the Compound Oxygen treatment which has such a world-wide reputation in lung and nervous affections. Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of catarrh, throat diseases, bronchitis, asthma and consumption.

CATARRH.

The term catarrh is applied to a peculiar disorder of the nostrils and adjacent parts, which prevails to an alarming extent and is productive of very serious consequences.

The most prominent and characteristic features is a morbid discharge from the head, varying in its nature at different times.

In some there is an almost constant flow of clear, acrid fluid, but oftener an offensive, purulent or muco-purulent, greenish yellow matter is secreted, which accumulates in the nostrils or drops into the throat, necessitating its frequent removal by blowing the nose or expectoration, and often by both processes. Sometimes patients feel as though their whole head was in a state of rottenness, so great is the amount of matter discharged and so fetid is its odor. The patient is greatly annoyed by the constant dropping into the throat of the morbid matter from the head, and as a recumbent position naturally favors the flow downward, his rest is frequently disturbed from this cause. Many sufferers are obliged to lie with the head very much elevated in order to sleep with some degree of comfort.

In others a tough, viscid and offensive phlegm collects behind and above the soft palate, in the passage between the throat and head, adhering to the parts with gluish tenacity. Its lodgment embarrasses respiration and creates a sensation of irritation and uneasiness in the affected locality, which gives rise to a constant and almost irresistible desire to relieve the discomfort by drawing the mucous into the throat so as to eject it by the mouth. This practice, popularly known as "hawking," is characteristic of catarrh, and proves as embarrassing to the one affected as it is disagreeable to those around him.

Again, the offensive matter hardens and deposits itself on the membrane in the shape of dry, hard concretions, which are discharged by way of the nostrils or throat in lumps or fragments of a deep green tint. In some cases these incrustations accumulate to such an extent as to form a regular plug in the nose, which obstructs breathing and produces serious discomfort. So firmly do these incrustations adhere to the point of attachment that their removal usually requires the most violent efforts; not unfrequently they have to be torn from the membrane, Occasionally a solid cast of notable size is expelled, on which there are generally traces of blood, but in some cases the cast presents a tubular appearance, being of exact shape of the nasal cavity. This condition is indicative of ulceration, which, in time, may destroy the bony structure of the nose and produce a subsequent flattening of that organ.

Cases are occasionally met with in which a thick, viscid, slimy secretion coats the membrane of the nasal cavities and then putrifies, giving rise to a stench which is really overpowering, and sufficiently fetid to poison the atmosphere of a whole room; and there are others in which all the secretions of the membrane are suspended, causing an unpleasant feeling of dryness, heat and feverishness in the head and nose—a condition popularly known as "Dry Catarrh."

The disease speedily extends to the air cavities of the bones of the forehead and face, giving rise to a distressing sensation of heavy weight or compression over the forehead, especially in the region above and between the eyes, and to a feeling of fullness, heat, irritation, soreness or pain in the nostrils near the root of the nose, as well as in the upper part of the throat, above and behind the soft palate. Sometimes there is pain obstinately fixed in some particular part, as in the temple, on the top of the head, at the back of the neck, or behind the orbits, and, occasionally, pain manifests itself in the face of so severe a character that it is frequently mistaken for neuralgia.

The breath is always tainted and at times assumes an exceedingly fetid and sickening odor. In some cases it becomes so revoltingly offensive as to render the sufferer an object of disgust to himself as well as to others.

The nasal membrane is thickened and congested, causing the nose to be stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, and often on both, giving rise to a disagreeable, stuffy sensation in the head, and occasionly violent and prolonged paroxysms of sneezing.

The voice is weak, indistinct and husky, or of a nasal character, displaying a sort of sniffing quality. Oftentimes there is a continuous hoarseness and discordance. There is also a sense of irritation in the throat, and frequent attempts to clear the parts of phlegm, producing the sound "hem" more or less forcibly. In some cases patients complain of an uncomfortable feeling of fullness, or a choky sensation in the throat, and in others of a distressing and almost constant dryness, for the temporary relief of which they have to swallow frequently. Others, again, speak of a constant bad or nauseous taste in the mouth or throat.

The stomach generally suffers more or less and becomes weak and irritable; the appetite is capricious and nearly always bad in the morning. The patient is languid, unable to perform mental or physical labor with the usual facility, is nervous, depressed in spirits, at times fearful, timid, agitated and inclined to drowsiness and sleep, the memory weakened and permanent impairment seriously threatened.

The mucous membrane soon becomes morbidly sensitive to unfavorable influences, and in spite of the utmost care becomes affected from the slightest causes, so that a breath of wind upon the linings of the nose or throat becomes productive of a cold, and gives rise to serious disturbances of the respiratory organs. Thus the patient is subject to frequent and repeated colds, each attack aggravating the disease by giving it a new impulse and involving a larger extent of surface than its predecessor. In this manner the difficulty spreads from organ to organ, invading the throat larynx trachea and bronchial tubes, until, encroaching further and further, it reaches the finer ramifications of the bronchi, when but a slight impulse is required to send it to the lungs. Catarrh may, and often does, affect other organs in the body, especially those containing a mucous membrane, such as the stomach, bowels, kidneys, etc.

By the employment of proper inhalation in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surfaces in the larynx and nasal passages, for air will find its way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance of business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless both lungs are seriously involved. The inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucous and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

MR. McCOY, the Democratic candidate for Coronor, elsewhere gives the lie to a sensational story which appeared in the Express of last evening concerning him.

A MORE injurious blow could not have been aimed at this section than that which the Republican Senate aimed at our industries in the reducing of the duties on lemons, oranges and sugar. The cottony cushion scale has greatly jeopardized our citrus fruit industries, and now the Senate bill aims to give them the coup de grace. Sugar raising is just in its infancy and needs encouragement. But at it also the Senate bill takes fatal aim.

OUR evening contemporary puts among its "pertinent facts" the declaration that free trade would "turn the balance of trade against us." This empirical statement might hava had some basis of argument in 1887; but not in 1888. In the former year, under high protection, the balance of trade with foreign countries was only $23,863,000. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1888, the balance of trade was against us to the tune of $27,925,000. This is another nut for the high protectionists to crack and a tough one.

MR. QUAY is out posing as a purifier in elections. Let us see; Matt did not run the machine in 1880 when Dorsey and Dudley spread "soap" over Indiana. Neither did Mr. Quay have anything to do with the Oregon elections of last month. And then if there is $25,000 for the man who gives evidence to convict of frauds, what will Johnny Davenport do in New York this trip? The offer, we believe, does not extend to West Virginia, where the fine Italian hand of Steve Elkins may be looked for in its results. Mr. Quay is not the only case of a detective who purposely looks in the wrong place to find the man he wants.

IT begins to look as if California will go Democratic. It certainly would if the early blunders of the organ in saying that protection did not protect and that the President's message meant free trade had not been made. It is a terrible up-hill fight to overcome the impression that was then made. Moreover the wrong men are being put on the stump, the southern counties are being neglected, and the leaders in charge in this city will dicker away votes on the National ticket for votes for local offices. If in the face of these things Cleveland carries a State that has usually gone Republican in presidential years, it will be a miracle. We believe he will for all that.—[San Francisco News-Letter.

There is now no question about the Democratic outlook in California. We have been gaining steadily in the discussion of the issues of the campaign, and the workingman is proving a far quicker and brighter student than he got credit for being. In the campaign of intellect he has proved himself, to the dismay of his Republican would-be patrons, a remarkably apt scholar. There may be some truth in what the News-Letter says about the neglect of the campaign in the Southern counties. It might have been more energetic in the beginning and middle, but we shall make amends towards the end. To a notable degree the people themselves have taken hold of the matter. They are in the saddle and pushing things.

THE Knights of Labor are making it exceedingly torrid for the Indianapolis Journal and General Benjamin Harrison, as the letter of E. F. Gould, Secretary of the Executive Board of the Indiana Knights of Labor, published elsewhere in this morning's HERALD, shows in a particularly conclusive and convincing manner. The Republican candidate's own particular organ, the journal which is controlled by the somewhat notorious John C. New, made the proposition to forfeit $2,000 if it could be shown that Harrison had said that a dollar a day was enough for a workingman, the determining of the truth or falsity of the charge to be submitted to twelve reputable citizens, half to be named by each party to the controversy. The Journal has chosen to back clear down from its own proposition; has shifted its attitude altogether; and as will be seen by Mr. Gould's communication, it resorts to contemptuous disparagement of the Knights of Labor. Precisely how such kind of tactics are expected to further Gen. Harrison's canvass, or augment his chances of success, we fail to see. All the circumstances favor the asumption that the grandson of Tippecanoe said exactly what the Knights of Labor say he said. The Journal's bluff has turned out to be a boomerang of great destructiveness, knocking the News into the middle of next year. The entire defection of the labor vote of Indiana would seem to be a thing which any sensible Republican would count upon as an incident of Harrison's labor record. He ought to be beaten in Indiana now with far more emphasis than even when Blue Jean Williams snuffed him out by a majority of over eight thousand, in 1876.

THE Council yesterday refused to adopt the ordinance closing the saloons at midnight. As a matter of fact, nine out of ten saloons are closed at midnight, and the great majority of saloon-keepers throughout the city limits close at hours ranging from nine o'clock to eleven. Doubtless the Council was largely influenced in its action by the knowledge that it was dealing with the thin edge of a sumptuary law regime which it is sought to establish in Los Angeles, the butt end to come later on, with all the force that a combination of Connecticut Blue Lawism and Paul Pryism could impart to it. They probably looked upon it as the first step in a crusade to tell people not only what they are to drink but as well as when they are to drink it. The movement contemplated moving on the works of the restaurant keepers and eating houses. If it had prevailed, such banquets as were given when the Odd Fellows were here, little innocent feasts such as are given, as incidents of balls, etc., etc., would be impossible. Excursionists coming into the city at a late hour would have to go to bed hungry, as would the belated traveler from Fulton Wells or a hundred other places. In other words, the proposition was to grade Los Angeles as a village instead of a city and a prospective metropolis. The Council sat down on the wild proposal, as it ought to have done. We don't want to build a Chinese wall of exclusion around Los Angeles just yet a while.

THE multiplication of educational institutions in Los Angeles bids fair to make this city to Southern California what Oakland is to the Northern portion of the State. The dedication yesterday of Occidental College was accompanied by very interesting proceedings, a report of which will be found elsewhere. This college has been founded by the Presbyterians of this Presbytery, and will be conducted under the auspicies of that church. Its main object will be to give the youth who enter it a moral and religious training and a complete general and classical education, fitting them either for the ministry or for the higher walks of secular life. The plan is to prepare young men who desire to enter into the ministry to prepare themselves for a final theological course in the theological seminary at San Francisco. Under the auspices of the different Christian churches we have now here four fine institutions—the University of Southern California, Methodist-Episcopal; the St. Vincent College, Roman Catholic; the Baptist College and the Occidental College dedicated yesterday. Two of these have been long established and are beyond the experimental stage; the other two have started under conditions that promise to make them strong and permanent seats of learning.

THERE has been a good deal of reckless grading of streets in Los Angeles and the Council did well yesterday in referring all future propositions of this kind to the Sueprintendent of Streets, to figure up the costs. Under the Vrooman Act the city has to pay for all grading whose expense amounts to more than one-half of the City Assessor's valuation of the property. Thus, if a lot is assessed at $200, all expense incurred in the grading over $100 must be paid by the city. In a city with so many hills as Los Angeles great care ought to be exercised in all matters relating to the grading of streets. In many municipalities of the United States property holders have been ruined by a disregard of ordinary business common sense in the grading of streets. In a city whose physical topography is like that of Los Angeles, especial circumspection ought to be exercised. San Francisco neglected the opportunity of making that city the most picturesque metropolis in the world by not adopting the terrace plan of streets. Hills in Southern California can be made too ornamental to allow of sacrificing their graceful outlines to ugly cuts and impracticable straight lines.

THE Council has called the special election to decide the fate of the projected new Charter for the 20th instant. Every citizen shonld carefully study this matter up for himself, Democrats, in addition to its other features, paying attention to the fact that by it their party gets only one ward, the Eighth, while the Republicans get six, with two doubtful wards, and the workingmen with a lively recollection of the fact that every suggestion they made was rejected. The HERALD regrets that this election was not held on the general election day, so that we could have got the largest possible expression of the popular views upon it. But perhaps it is as well thus; as, if it is defeated, as it ought to be, there will be plenty of time to form a new Charter in season for its approval at the coming session of the Legislature.

AT THIS period the traveler from the Western Addition sits him down under an orange tree in Los Angeles and sketches the ruins of the boom. It was an unwholesome and an unnatural boom, and all the king's horses and all the king's men can never resurrect it. May the bones of those Eastern dolts who believe that there is no good in California north of the Mojave desert, be buried with it.—[San Francisco News-Letter.

The foregoing choice morceau is taken from the Town Crier's department of our lively San Francisco contemporary. It belongs to the regulation cut and dried wit made familiar by years of strained effort. We may be pretty poorly off in the city and county of Los Angeles, nevertheless we still, "busted boom" and all, sell from eight to ten times as much real estate every week as does the city and county of San Francisco. Another redeeming feature of our not altogether hopeless situation is that our eighty-five to ninety thousand people know that they are on the high road to metropolitan status and that they are not, like the Golden Gate, a finished product, with ten years of hard work a head to fill it out to its already overgrown proportions. With four transcontinental railways already centering here, and two more a-coming, Los Angeles, with the whole trend of California immigration plunging her way, can afford to laugh to scorn such witless malice.

REPUBLICAN journals are trying to get up a great ado about the probability that there will be this year, as there has so often been before, a triangular contest for the Mayoralty in New York city. They need give themselves no uneasiness on that score. A lively competition amongst the local Democracy will be sure to bring out the full Democratic vote, and Cleveland and Thurman will benefit amazingly by these rivalries, just as the candidacy of Governor Hill will set every representative of every shade of Democratic sentiment in the Empire State working like beavers for a common success. They affect to see great danger that Cleveland will lose his own State. This time the reform President will carry New York by a ground-swell and the shaking up will extend to Connecticut and New Jersey, and possibly to New Hampshire.

BROTHER PIXLEY has been making speeches in Southern California; and, if the American part of them were excised, they would serve pretty well as Democratic campaign documents in that they would open the eyes of Republican workingmen to the game of guff which the Republican leaders are seeking to play upon them. In his Fresno speech Pixley riddled a great many of the hoary sophistical chestnuts which are so much in favor with Republican campaigners. In addition to his speeches, Mr. Pixley wrote for his last week's Argonaut a description of his experiences in Fresno that was quite entertaining. He went over the immense raisin vineyard of Mr. Butler—the largest in the world—and he found that staunch Democrat perfectly satisfied with the slight reduction made by the Mills bill on his favorite staple.

HARRISON AND THE K. OF L.

The Indianapolis "Journal" Backs Squarely Down.

INDIANAPOLIS, September 28.—Replying to the Indianapolis Journal's desperate bluff, telegraphed from here to both of the Press Associations last night, Mr. E. F. Gould, Secretary of the Executive Board of the K. of L., promptly publishes in the Sentinel this morning the following redhot open letter to New & Son, completely blowing them out of water:

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., September 27.

John C. New & Son, proprietors of the Indianapolis Journal:

GENTLEMEN—Your square back-down in this morning's issue of the Indianapolis Journal calls for another challenge from me, and I trust you will place yourselves upon honest grounds in the matter, and no longer evade the issue pending between your paper and the K. of L. One month ago, as Secretary of the K. of L., I, acting under authority of that body, demanded of you the $2,000 reward offered by your paper for proof that Benjamin Harrison, pending the strike of 1877, said that $1 per day was enough for any workingman," and that "they (the strikers) ought to be forced back to work by the use of the militia." I furnished you the statement of twelve reliable, trustworthy members of labor organizations, all of whom are known to be honest and industrious men. I gave the residences where they lived that any person might consult them as to the accuracy of their statements, etc. The proposition you had made was, that the statements were to be submitted to a committee of business men. I appointed my portion of the committee and invited you to appoint your portion. The committee was to take sworn testimony from the men and determine the value of the evidence. The proof was not to be determined by any person interested on either side of the case. In the face of this you took it upon yourselves to say that the proof was valueless; that the K. of L. was an "irresponsible organization;" that its members were "bums," "thugs," "beats," "bribers," "bribe-takers and perjurers;" that to recognize its claims before a "municipal court" would be an "insult to justice." This is the estimate your paper has ever placed upon the K. of L. and trades unions. The K. of L. is a responsible organization, and is responsible for the wonderful improvements recently made in our street car service, which, according to statements published in your own paper is the outcome of the car-drivers' strike, and the $2,000 demanded of you was to be used in defraying the expenses incurred upon that memorable occasion. Instead of appointing your committee, your ignored your own proposition, and did not as much as answer my official communication, which you receipted for to the district messenger boy delivering the same.

Your paper subsequently declared that if I would procure one affidavit you would enter suit against affiant for perjury, and allow the courts to determine what General Harrison said or did not say. I then wrote you accepting that proposition, but requested you to answer my official communication, which you evaded. Subsequently I accepted your editorial as a reply thereto and furnished you the affidavit according to your own proposition. Having gone back on your first proposition, I accepted your second. I invited you to sue affiant for perjury and agreed to prove in open court that Benjamin Harrison said everything charged against him and much more, and this I proposed to prove by Republicans standing high in political circles. Instead of suing affiant you have now gone back on your second proposition, and now you declare you will allow the reward providing the Democratic State or County Central Committee will father the charges; that you will place the reward in the hands of a Democrat, conditioned that Chairman Jewett, Secretary Sheerin or Chairman Taggert will father the charges. I desire you to distinctly understand that the National, State or County Central Committee of the Democratic party is neither of them the executive board of the K. of L., who have made and substantiated the charges, neither Chairman Jewett, Chairman Taggart or Secretary Sheerin is even a member of the K. of L. They do not profess to make the charges, have nothing whatever to do with them, and should they undertake to father the claim they will be given to distinctly understand that the K. of L. can attend to their own business without their assistance. You are hereby challenged, in accordance with your own proposition, to enter suit against affiant, and transact your business with me and nobody else for what has been said. The K. of L. is a responsible organization, and was so acknowledged when you, Mr. John C. New, interceded to have the General Secretary of that organization resign his position to take the stump in favor of the Republican party. Prosecute, as you have said you would, and we will bring sworn evidence from men now connected with the Republican State Central Committee that Benjamin Harrison said even more than has been charged against him, or the statements they have already made will show them up as perjurers.

At the Chicago Convention some of the most reputable gentlemen in the Republican party declared that Harrison had said in their presence that in his (Harrison's) judgment hanging was too good for the strikers. The avoiding of prosecution, under the circumstances, is a square back-down on your part, and is conclusive evidence that you yourselves admit Harrison's guilt, and have been obliged to recall the reward offered. I defy you, I double dare you, to enter prosecution and let the courts determine Harrison's guilt or innocence, according to your own proposition. By pursuing the course you have in the matter you have placed yourselves before the people of this country as cowards, vilifiers and acknowledged betrayers of your own instincts, possessed of not one spark of manly principle and an ocean of unadulterated bluff.

I remain, sirs, yours emphatically,
EDWIN F. GOULD.

WASHINGTON.

Allison and Vance Discuss the New Tariff Bill.

BLAIR MOUNTS A NEW HOBBY.

A Republican Backdown on the Campaign Fund Investigation. Notes.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, October 10.—In the Senate to-day Blair offered a resolution (laid over till Monday) calling on the President for information as to the trial for treason, and the conviction and execution, in Canada, on the 6th of November, 1885, of Louis David Riel, who claimed to have been a naturalized citizen of the United States, and whether the proceedings in the case were according to due process of law, including a presentation of the fact of Riel's claim to citizenship, and his defense's claim of insanity.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of the tariff bill, its reading in full being dispensed with, and the Senate substitute being ordered first considered.

Harris asked Allison to fix the time at which the general debate on the bills should close.

Allison said it was impossible to say when the Senators would resign their right to take any responsibility respecting it. He concurred with the Senator in the desire that the bill should be proceeded with as rapidly as possible.

Harris remarked that there was not a Senator who had not well defined and fixed opinions as to the principle that would control his vote in regard to every phase and feature of the bill. If the Senator from Iowa would agree, he (Harris) would ask unanimous consent to close the debate on this bill in ten days.

Allison—I would not like to consent to that at the very beginning; it might be found that we wanted eleven or twelve days.

Allison then proceeded with his statement as to the bill. There was something which ought to be made clear in the beginning of the discussion. There were a few salient points which ought to be presented. One was that the Senate bill proposed to reduce the revenue between $65,000,000 and $73,000,000. This was the first opportunity which the Senate had to consider the great question of the reduction of revenue since the revision of 1883. The House had occupied eight months in the consideration of the question, but within a little over sixty days the Senate Committee on Finance had produced the bill now up. The House had spent eight months, not for the purpose of strengthening the industries of the country, but for the purpose of greatly disturbing those interests. He regarded a reduction of from $60,000,000 to $70,000,000 of the revenue as being as great a reduction as could be safely made, and therefore he trusted that no amendment would be adopted looking to a greater reduction. He calculated from the report of the Secretary of the Treasury for the first quarter of the present fiscal year that there would be a reduction of $8,000,000 in receipts from imports this year as compared with last year, and a reduction of $17,000,000 as compared with the Secretary's estimate. Taking all the revenues of the Government for the first quarter of the current fiscal year, the sum of $5,000,000, as compared with the first quarter of last year. He made this statement for the purpose of showing that the enormous surplus in the Treasury was not likely to be increased by anything that was to occur during the present fiscal year. By the provisions of the Senate Tariff bill there would be no surplus revenue unless the sinking fund for this year were left entirely out of consideration. The Senate bill contemplated—and it might as well be understood in the beginning—that for the current fiscal year and for the fiscal years that are to follow immediately, there was not likely to be a surplus beyond the amount necessary to redeem the 4½ per cent bonds falling due October 1, 1891. He could not understand why it was that the surplus of $96,000,000 was not used to retire the 4½ per cent bonds that were presently to be paid off by the Government.

Passing on to the general features of the bill he said that the Senate bill differed from the House bill in the fact that it proposed to deal with all the schedules of the Tariff, while the House bill did not. The House bill did not deal with the tobacco schedule, silk schedule or wines and liquors schedules, and had dealt but lightly with the sugar schedule. The Senate bill had been made up on the principle of protecting American labor and industry. That was its aim and purpose. The Senate Committee on Finance had sought to care for every industry in the country.

Referring to the question of tobacco, Allison said that the only difference between the House bill and the Senate bill in regard to tobacco, was that the Senate bill made a reduction of $1.50 per thousand on manufactured cigars, and also took off the tax of $1 on retail dealers in tobacco. The house bill reduced the sugar duty eighteen per cent., and the Senate fifty per cent. Even with the latter reduction the duty on sugar would remain at 41 per cent. ad valorem. Sugar was as essential in every household as bread, and if there was any article that should have a low rate of duty imposed on it, it was the article of sugar. He believed that whatever encouragement there should be for the production of sugar from sorghum or beets it still left its fair protection by the Senate bill. It had been the boast of the Democratic party that it reduced the duties on the necessaries of life, but what was a greater necessary of life than sugar and yet the House bill only proposed a reduction of the existing duty on sugar by 18 per cent. He argued that the effect of the House bill in regard to the sugar schedule would be to legislate six millions a year into the pockets of the sugar trust, or 12 per cent. on their capital, and to take that amount out of the pockets of the people; and yet the Republican party is denounced and this substitute is denounced as favoring trusts.

In comparing the two bills, Allison said the Senate bill was a clear and distinct measure of protection to American industries, while the House bill was a long step in the direction of free trade.

Vance, one of the minority members of the Finance Committee, next addressed the Senate. He drew an imaginary sketch of the partnership entered into at the close of the war between the Government and the manufacturers of the United States, the terms of partnership being that the Government was to enact a tariff law and subject foreign products to taxation for its own benefit, while home products were to be untaxed for the benefit of the home manufacturers. He described this as an unholy and iniquitous system of taxation upon the many for the benefit of the few. How, he asked, did the Senate substitute divide the burden of duties between the Government and the people on the one side, and the favored class on the other? It took off the tax on tobacco ($25,00,000) and the tax on alcohol used in the arts ($7,000,000), and reduced the duty on sugar, nearly all of which taxes (amounting in all to $65,000,000) were purely revenue; in other words, the Senate bill took $9 from the Government for every $1 that it took from the manufacturers. He characterized as sheer nonsense, or worse, the assumption that high tariff meant high wages. If it were not so the operation of the tax would be the same everywhere, while the fact was that wages differed in every State in the Union and in different parts parts of a State. As to the claim that the manufacturers furnish a home market for the farmer, he instanced as a refutation of the claim that nowhere in the United States was the decay of agriculture more noticeable and lamentable than in New England, where manufactories most abound. The effect of protection was to convert an independent yeomanry into dependent factory operatives. The annual cotton product of the South was 7,000,000 bales, of which 5,000,000 were a surplus, and with a surplus of wheat, corn and meal, if it could not be disposed of in foreign markets, if American producers were confined to to the home market, they would have to do what the American manufacturers did when they found themselves in the presence of an overstocked market, shut down their works and turn the blessed American laborer into the streets to beg for himself and his children. The House bill, he said, was framed not only to relieve the Treasury, but to relieve the people, while the Senate bill was framed so as to relieve the Treasury and to increase the burdens of the people. That is the difference between the two bills.

Hiscock obtained the floor, and after an executive session the Senate adjourned.

THE HOUSE.

Mason Hedges on His Campaign Fund Investigation.

WASHINGTON, October 8.—In the House the Senate bill passed, to provide for warehousing fruit brandy.

The Senate joint resolution was passed authorizing Brigadier-General Baird to accept from the President of the French Republic a diploma conferring the decoration of the order of the Legion of Honor.

Mason, of Illinois, asked unanimous consent to discharge the Committee on Banking from further consideration of the resolution offered by him some months ago, asking for an investigation of the allegation that the National banks to which public money has been loaned, have been solicited for contributions to the Democratic campaign fund.

A demand for the regular order by McMillin operated as an objection.

Wheeler, of Alabama, then addressed the House on the tariff question.

At the conclusion of Mr. Wheeler's remarks, in which he criticised the Senate bill as being in the interest of monopolists and a detriment to agricultural industry, the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON WAIFS.

Another New Phase of the Chinese Exclusion Act.

WASHINGTON, October 8.—A telegram was received at the Treasury Department to-day from the Collector of Customs at Niagara Suspension Bridge, saying that Chinamen en route from Chicago with through tickets to points in the United States via the Grand Trunk Railroad, in transit through Canada, asked to be permitted to land under the Department's decision No. 5,422, of October 24, 1882. Instructions were requested by telegraph. Assistant Secretary Maynard replied as follows: "The Department has no authority under the Chinese Exclusion act of October 1st last to admit Chinese laborers coming to your port from Canada whether on Railroad tickets from Chicago or not."

By an error made by the Committee in preparing for publication the additions to the free list contained in the substitute Tariff bill reported by the Senate Committee on Finance, it was made to appear that opium for smoking had been freed of duty. As a matter of fact the substitute bill expressly prohibits the importation of such opium.

Members of the Chicago Baseball Team were among the President's callers this afternoon. Captain Anson had a chat with the President about the contemplated trip to Australia.

After Judge Thurman left the Supreme Court he returned to the Ebbitt House and spent a quiet evening, only a few friends being received. The President, it is said, will attend a reception which Judge Thurman has consented to hold in the parlors of the Ebbitt at some future date.

The conferees on the General Deficiency bill reached an agreement on their only remaining point of difference, that relating to the Woman's Industrial Home of Utah. They make an appropriation for the completion of the buildings according to the present plans, provide $4,000 for furnishing the building and maintaining it the present fiscal year, the work of the institution to be under the management of the Utah Commission. Provision is made for a regular report of its operation and for the auditing of the expenses of the home. The title of the building is to be transferred to the United States.

THE NORTHWEST.

Henry Villard's Best Card—Indians Going to Washington.

ST. PAUL, October 8.—Henry Villard addressed the members of the Chamber of Commerce, by special invitation, to-day. He said many had sharply criticised his expensive Northern Pacific excursion of five years ago, but the outcome had shown that it was the best card he ever played, since from the confidence it gave the German visitors came the means of his later resurrection by German capital. He expressed unbounded confidence in the future of the Northwest.

Pioneer Press specials announce that the Cheyenne River delegation of Indian Chiefs has reached Pierre, and will leave for Washington in the morning. This delegation is solid in favor of demanding a dollar and a quarter per acre. Another special says: "Agent Anderson and the delegation from the Crow Creek and Brule agencies are in Chamberlain, Dakota, this evening." The delegations will meet at Chicago Thursday, and will arrive in Washington Saturday.

Moody Leaves the Bay City Until After Election—Will Stanford Resign?

SAN FRANCISCO, October 8.—This morning Judge Hoffman, of the Federal Court, acting as Circuit Judge, made an important order relating to the landing of Chinese and the claims of certificate holders on the way to America and still in China. He set Friday morning as the time when Chinese lawyers shall appear before the court and present their arguments why the certificate Chinese and "prior residents" shall be entitled to the right of habeas corpus. Judge Sawyer is expected to be back in time for these proceedings, and if he is not, the hearing will be delayed until his return. The question will be opened by a motion on the part of the Chinese attorneys for writs for their clients who are held by the custom house authorities. This motion will be opposed by the United States Attorney, and the opinion of the bench will decide the validity of the certificate, rights of "prior residents" and other minor points in connection with the operation of the law.

LOCAL CONVENTIONS.

The Democratic City and County Convention met this evening to complete their ticket. James R. Kelly was nominated for Sheriff and A. F. Spotts for County Clerk. Supervisors were nominated in the wards from Seven to Twelve, inclusive. The Convention adjourned till to-morrow night.

The Republican City and County Convention, for the purpose of nominating a municipal and county ticket, met this evening and elected W. A. Dorn permanent chairman. A committee of fifteen was appointed on platform, and the Convention adjourned till Thursday night.

RELIGION AND POLITICS.

The Y. M. C. A. rooms were filled this morning and afternoon with audiences to hear D. S. Moody, the evanglist, speak. This afternoon an informal reception was tendered him, and Mr. Moody expressed his wish not to return to San Francisco before the 1st of January, because he thought politics would interfere with his work until after the campaign. He left, north bound, to-night, and will probably go direct to Oregon, Washington Territory or British Columbia, and from there work slowly back this way, speaking at various points on the route. He will probably remain in this city a month on his return, and then visit Southern California.

RAILROAD GOSSIP.

In railroad circles it was again rumored to-day that Senator Stanford would soon resign the Presidency of the Southern Pacific railroad. Officials of the road, when being spoken to, however, declare their ignorance of any such intention on the part of the Senator.

The Atlantic and Pacific has shortened its road between this city and Kansas City by twelve hours. A new time-card went into effect yesterday by which the daily overland train out of San Francisco for the East via Albuquerque, will leave this city at 8 P. M. instead of 9:30 A. M. It will run Pullman and second-class sleepers through to Kansas City and St. Louis without change.

Merced Matters.

MERCED, October 8—The Board of Supervisors to-day ordered an election to be held in Merced county on the 6th of November, for the purpose of voting on issuing $40,000 bonds at twenty years standing, for building a county jail.

The Forestry Commissioners have decided to discontinue the experimental station at Yosemite colony several miles from Merced.

GRASS VALLEY, October 8.—This afternoon at the North Banner mine a cave occurred, shutting in two men. A rescue party is at work and surgeons were sent to the scene.

TOO MUCH BUSTLE.

New York Customs Officers Make Some Novel Discoveries.

NEW YORK, October 8.—Mrs. Hannah Bland was one of the saloon passengers on the Hamburg-American packet steamship Gellert from Hamburg this morning. Her baggage had been passed by the Customs House officials and was leaving the pier, when the attention of Inspectress Florence M. Tood, of the Surveyor's staff, was attracted by the woman's mammoth proportions. She was well made up but her bustle was of unusal size. She was led to a private apartment where a search of her person brought to light a large quantity of imported dress goods. Her baggage was then put through a second examination. Other dress goods of a costly character were found ingeniously sown in the lining of well worn dresses. Mrs. Bland then tried to bribe the inspectors. The goods were sent to the Custom House seizure room.

Frank C. Gummen, of New Orleans, was a passenger on the steamer Aller, from Bremen. Inspectors Brown and Donahue seized twenty-two yards of silk lace, dress silk and silk handkerchiefs. These goods were found concealed in the lining of the passengar's overcoat.

AN EDITOR ASSAULTED.

Cowardly Shooting Affray in an Alabama Newspaper Office.

ANNISTON, Ala, October 8.—An attempt was made this afternoon to assassinate W. H. Edmonds, editor of the Hot Blast, in his office. The trouble grew out of enmity aroused by the paper's war in favor of a rigid enforcement of the prohibition laws. A week ago four expolice, who had been discharged for inefficiency, waylaid Editor Edmonds and beat him severely. This afternoon, Justice of the Peace J. S. Lawrence, accompanied by Will Lacey, entered the Hot Blast office, in which at the time were Edmonds, John Coppell, mailing clerk, and A. Tribney, who had come in on business. Lawrence called Edmonds outside, where some conversation was had in reference to a communication which appeared in the Montgomery Dispatch written by Lawrence, who is a correspondent of that paper. Lawrence asked Edmonds to retract a severe reply he had made to the communication, but Edmonds refused. Ascertaining that Edmonds was not armed, Lacey pulled a revolver and opened fire upon him. He was shot in the left arm at the elbow and seriously wounded. Lacey attempted to shoot again, but the pistol snapped, which probably saved Edmond's life. He then fired on Messrs. Coppell and Tribney, the former being shot through the neck, and the latter receiving two wounds in the head, both serious. Lawrence and Lacey were arrested. Feeling in the city is intense, and talk of lynching is strong. A mass meeting of citizens will be held to-morrow, when a plan of action will be decided upon.

YELLOW FEVER.

JACKSONVILLE, October 8.—The weather was clear and cool to-day except at midday, when the mercury rose to above 80. The funeral of Edwin Martin, late editor of the Times-Union, took place this morning.

Official bulletin: New cases, 50; deaths, 5. Total cases to date (corrected), 3,208; total deaths, 295.

The Masonic fraternity of the State has issued a circular throughout the country at large, thanking them for their generous contributions, expressing the hope that need for aid was past and directing that no more be sent.

Must the Chicagoans Walk?

CHICAGO, October 8.—A resolution was adopted by the City Council to-night ordering an inquiry as to whether the North Side Street Railway Company had not forfeited its charter in failing to run cars during Saturday and Sunday. The West Side car men gathered to-night at their headquarters awaiting the report of the conference in the Mayor's office. At 12 o'clock the feeling among the men was that an extension of the strike at daylight was still the most probable outcome.

RESULT OF THE CONFERENCE.

The conference in the Mayor's office lasted until after midnight, and ended in a disagreement. A concession was made by the strikers, and a concession followed from President Yerkes. The President wanted a further concession from the men. The strikers declined to back down further, and the long conference ended abruptly. From the Mayor's office the committee went to the meeting of West Side carmen, where fiery speeches advocating a strike were being made. Up to 1:25 A. M., however, no definite action towards the extension of the strike in the morning had been taken.

War on the Sugar Trust.

NEW YORK, October 8.—Judge O'Brien to-day granted permission to Attorney-General Chas. F. Tabor to bring action against the Havemeyer & Elder Sugar Refining Company to annul its charter. This company, with thirteen others, is a member of the Sugar Trust Combination. The Attorney-General has appointed General Roger A. Pryor as counsel to represent him in the matter. The object of the suit is to annul the corporate existence of the company and to vacate its charter upon the ground that is has violated the charter by which it was incorporated, and has exercised privileges and franchises not conferred upon it by law.

TERRIBLE CRIME

By a Despoiler of the Widow's Portion.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 8.—At Knightstown, this morning about 2 o'clock, the frame dwelling of N. B. Wade, occupied by himself, Mrs. Sarah Hoggins, his mother, and Mrs. Martha Cates, was discovered on fire. After breaking open the door Wade was found unconscious at his mother's bed. He was taken out but died in a few minutes. His mother was dead before taken out. Mrs. Cates was not found until her limbs and arms were burned off and she died in a short time. A shoe knife covered with blood and a bottle of Paris green were taken from Wade's pocket and the indications are that he murdered the two women and then suicided, the testimony before the coroner tending to substantiate this theory. Mrs. Cates was the widow of a soldier and resided with Mrs. Hoggins, who had reared her from a child. In 1876 Mrs. Cates was granted $1,400 arrearage of pension and a regular pension of $10 a month. Wade illegally assumed her guardianship and appropriated the money to his own credit. Recently she complained to the G. A. R. Post of her treatment by Wade. A legal guardian was appointed, and it was found that Wade had appropriated her money. To-day Wade would have been compelled to account for the money, and it is presumed he had been brooding over the matter so much that he became insane, and went to his mother's house last night, and after murdering Mrs. Cates set fire to the house. He is then supposed to have taken a large dose of paris green and thrown himself into the flames.

TWO SPEECHES AT GRAND RAPIDS

Uncle Abram Hewitt Accepts the Nomination of the County Democracy.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., October 8.—At Grand Rapids Blaine was met by an immense and enthusiastic crowd. At 3 o'clock the doors of Hartman's Hall were thrown open and the crowd poured in a great flood. The gist of his speech was an answer to Postmaster-General Dickinson's statement to the effect that the New England States and the East gets all the advantage of the protective tariff, while the West sustains the burden.

Grand Rapids was ablaze to-night with a flash of 4,000 torches, lighting up the faces of some 50,000 citizens, who turned out to do honor to the city's guest, Mr. Blaine, of Maine. The procession was reviewed by him from the balcony of his hotel. Three largely attended meetings were held in as many halls; the largest, held in Hartmann's Hall, was briefly addressed by Blaine, who said, if his judgment of Michigan was right, it ever would be found in the Republican procession, and Harrison and Morton will be the next President and Vice-President of the United States. "I believe," said Blaine, "their election is essential to the continued prosperity of the country, and if the people of this country believe in the protective system, they must put at the head of the Government a President who believes in that system."

Blaine was followed by Generals Ewing and Noyes, whose speeches were heartily applauded.

From Grand Rapids Blaine will start on his Indiana tour, making his first speech at Goshen on the 10th, Indianapolis on the 11th, New Albany on the 13th, Evansville on the 15th, Tippecanoe Battleground on the 17th.

MAYOR HEWITT.

He Scores Tammany but is all Right on the Presidency.

NEW YORK, October 8.—Mayor Hewitt was notified of his nomination for Mayor by the Committee of the County Democracy to-night, and accepted. In a speech in which he stated that the Tammany candidate represented the spoils system, the party, he said, was governed by a secret society, the sachems of which allot the offices. He thought that the triangular fight would help the Democratic Presidential vote, but in any event the position should be laid at the door of Tammany. He did not think he had done the Irish harm in his position on the flag question, nor the Germans in his position that the naturalization law should require long residence. In regard to the report that he would not support the Democratic national nomination, he said he would put that at rest. "There have been differences," he said, "between the President and myself, but they have not changed my views a particle. The President is the regular nominee of the Democratic party, and I am a Democrat."

A Senior Member of Williams & Co. Commits Suicide.

NEW YORK, October 8.—Francis Williams, senior member of the well-known banking house of Williams, Black & Co., committed suicide by shooting himself through the head at the Grand Union Hotel to-day. The firm was squeezed up in the Hutchinson deal in Chicago and suspended on the 29th of September, but rallied and opened for bnsiness on the 1st instant. The firm is said to have lost heavily, although still solvent. Mr. Williams had been acting strangely since the crash in his affairs. He was 61 years old and leaves two sons and a wife.

It was decided to increase the drum corps to ten members and to hold meetings every week until November 6th. Addresses were made by Messrs. Levy, Gate and Woods. The club then adjourned to Monday, October 15th, when business of great importance will be brought up. All young Democrats are requested to attend.

Liberated From Their Fetters

By the helpful, genial action of that most beneficent aperients, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters the bowels soon throw off the burden that paralyzed and weakened them, and resume their normal freedom of action. The action of the Bitters, unlike that of average purgatives, involves no griping or drenching. If it did it would, like them, be valueless for ordinary use. There is nothing ungentle or unnatural attending its operation. Upon the liver, no less than the bowels, its action is most benign, promoting a healthful bilious secretion, and directing out of the wrong and into the right channel. Conjointly with costiveness, other bilious symptoms disappear when it is systematically used, and the stomach is strengthened as well as regulated by it. Malarial complaints, rheumatism, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles are completely relieved by it. Sleep and appetite are invariably promoted by it.

THINGS OF YESTERDAY.

The New Chief-Justice Dons His Gown.

HE TAKES THE OATH OF OFFICE.

A Judge Egged by an Irate Litigant—The Street Car Strike and Other Items.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, October 8.—Chief-Justice Fuller took the oath of office and assumed the active duties of his position to-day. An hour before the time for the opening of court the narrow space allotted to the general public in the court chamber was crowded by men and women. Among the people of note present was Judge Thurman, who was conducted to a seat within the space reserved for the Marshal, and who became the conspicuous center of attraction during the half hour preceding the entry of the justices. The Chief-Justice arrived at the Capitol at 11:30, and proceeded to the private office of the court, where he took the oath of allegiance in the presence of the Associate Justices, the oath being administered by the senior member of the court, Associate Justice Miller.

At 12 o'clock the Associate Justices entered in procession. Juctices Gray and Mathews were absent as usual. The Chief-Justice, wearing the robe of office, was escorted to a place at the clerk's desk. The clerk read the commission, after which Justice Fuller arose, holding a Bible in one hand, and read from manuscript the oath of office:

"I, Melville Weston Fuller, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will administer justice without respect to persons and do equal right to poor and to rich, and that I will faithfully and impartially discharge and perform all the duties incumbent on me as Chief-Justice of the United States according to the best of my ability and understanding, agreeably to the Constitution and laws of the United States. So help me God."

His voice was clear and enunciation firm and distinct at the beginning, but before the end was reached, a marked tremor was manifest. The Chief-Justice was now escorted behind the bar and to his official seat in the center. Again the court and assemblage arose, this time without other summons than a wave of the hand by the clerk. Justice Miller took the hand of the Chief-Justice and with a smile of welcome, addressed him in a low voice: "I welcome you, sir, on behalf of this Court, as one of its members and its Chief-Justice."

The Chief-Justice bowed and took his seat and proceeded to hear applications for admission to the bar. At the conclusion of this ceremony the Court adjourned, in order that the members might pay their respects in a body to the President of the United States.

Chicago Street Car Strike.

CHICAGO, October 8.—The cars were started this morning over the North side lines at 7:30 o'clock. Cars drawn by horses and manned by about a dozen policemen each, left the city limits and other car barns, destined for the business centre, and were not molested by the strikers and onlookers, who had gathered around the barns. The down trip was made successfully without any mishaps to speak of, although the cars were somewhat hampered by the crowd of vehicles which took up the track. Comparatively few people rode on them.

General Manager Parson, of the West Division Railway Company, said late this afternoon that all hope of avoiding a strike of conductors and drivers on his division in sympathy with the North Division strikers had been abandoned, and that he had no doubt that the men would quit work at 6 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Mormons Not Wanted in Mexico.

NEW YORK, October 8.—A City of Mexico special says: Henry Erving, representative here of the Mormon colonies in the State of Chihuahua, denies the report that the Mormon Church has 400,000,000 acres of land in that State, formerly the property of the Zuni Indians. He also denies the charge that the Mormons contemplate moving en masse to this country. The Mormons here now number only 150 families, occupying 200,000 acres in Chihuahua. There is much discussion in the press regarding Mormon immigration. The general sentiment is adverse to it.

Couldn't Stand the Squeezing Process.

ST. LOUIS, October 8.—Joe Cowald, one of the best known operators in the Wheat Exchange, is reported seriously embarrassed. He was short on wheat. It is claimed that he will come out all right when able to realize.

MINNEAPOLIS, October 8.—Pressey, Wheeler & Co., grain and stock commission men, suspended this morning owing to inability to collect margins.

A Suspected Train-Wrecker.

DAGGETT, Cal., October 8.—August Newman, who is supposed to be one of the train-wreckers who tried to wreck a passenger train near Ripon, on the Southern Pacific, a few days ago, was arrested here to-day. A Central Pacific switch key was found on him, which he says belongs to the section foreman of Pinole.

A Judge Pelted with Rotten Eggs.

ST. LOUIS, October 8.—In front of the court-house to-day, Judge Lubke, of the Circuit Court, was rotten-egged by a well known business man, Henry Weigel. The Judge had rendered a decision against Weigel in a money matter. Weigle was arrested.

Victim's of Sunday's Disaster.

READING, Pa., October 8.—None of the victims of the corner-stone laying accident yesterday have yet died, but about a dozen are in a critical condition. Over 100 were injured altogether.

The New York "Star" Attached.

NEW YORK, October 8.—The Sheriff seized the property of the Star to-day upon an attachment of $16,000.

Campbell, Mrs. Robinger, Mrs. Plimpton, W. Bruce, J. L. McDonald, F. J. Edmunds, Mr. Harder, Mr. Stewart, C. J. Baker, Judge Luce, Dr. Irving, J. L. Halliday, Mr. Crosby.

An Ellis Concert.

The members of the Ellis Club are making arrangements for a grand concert to be given in the Turnverein Hall on the 18th of October. Besides a chorus of forty voices several local singing celebrities have been engaged for the occasion, and there is every indication that it will be one of "the" affairs of the season.

HOLLYWOOD!

The beautiful foothill suburb of Los Angeles at Cahuenga Pass is higher than the highest point in the city. This most lovely spot is situated six miles west of Los Angeles in the frostless belt. It possesses the finest soil in the world—nothing equal to it elsewhere. It will grow successfully the most delicate flower or tender plant in midwinter, without irrigation; in fact, we never irrigate this foothill land. It does not require it. It is a very healthy location. No malaria, but little fog, pure, unmolested ocean breeze every day in the year. Pure, soft water. Therefore no more healthy location can be found anywhere. Fine view of ocean vessels, city, valley and mountain. We defy competition in all of the advantages that go to make A DESIRABLE SPOT FOR A HOME! It cannot be beat. Yes, it cannot be equaled. I know this is saying a great deal. I am willing to stake my reputation on what I say. I am residing at Hollywood, and intend to make it our permanent home. A number of fine buildings are now being built at this point. Water is being piped. Cement sidewalks are being put down. The Cahuenga Valley Railroad is finished to this place, and six trains each way are now running on this road. See time table. This railroad is running in connection with the Second-street Cable. Half-fare tickets will be sold to persons residing at Hollywood, thus affording splendid connection with the city. The Los Angeles County Railroad will soon be completed and running to this place.

HOLLYWOOD

Is now for the first time offered for sale, at low prices and easy terms, in quantities to suit purchasers. Special inducements will be offered to persons making valuable improvements, until a certain number of fine houses are secured. After that is done, then land and lots at this point will be held firm for what they are really worth. There is from 6 to 7 acres in a block, and nearly a half acre in a lot. Ask any old citizen of Los Angeles about this location, and then call on me at Hollywood, or WILCOX & SHAW, 34 North Spring street, or on any good reliable real estate firm in Los Angeles, all of whom are hereby authorized to act as my agents.

EXCHANGE REVIEW.

NEW YORK, October 8.—The stock market was fairly active but the tone unsettled, though with generally a firmer feeling than prevailed during the latter portion of last week. There were alternate spells of weakness and strength throughout the day, and periods of activity followed the dullness. The close was quiet but firm at about the best prices of the day.

Government bonds dull and steady.

Petroleum opened steady at 92¼c, and after a slight decline in early trading, became strong and advanced to 94c. Realizing then caused a sharp reaction, on which the market closed weak at 92¾c.

MONEY QUOTATIONS.

NEW YORK, October 8.—Money on call easy at 2@4 per cent; closed offered at 3.

Prime mercantile paper 4¾@6¼.

Sterling exchange dull but firm at $4.83½ for sixty day bills; $4.88½ for demand.

Bar silver 94c.

Country flour has advanced 6d to 1s. Foreign wheats are irregular, at an average rise of 9d in London. Spot wheat in Liverpool has advanced 4d per cental. Corn is quiet. Foreign oats are 9d better.

DRUNKENNESS

Or the Liquor Habit Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless and will effect a permanent and speedy cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge, and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. IT NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For sale by R. W. Ellis & Co. Druggists, 27 S. A Queer Catch-Basin.

EDITORS HERALD — As everybody knows, many things in this city are not as they ought to be, but if improvements are made they should remain such, and not be done away with as soon as put up. Some time in June or July a sewer catch-basin was put in on the northwest corner of Fifth and Spring streets. While passing there yesterday I saw the gutter filled with stagnant water. Knowing of the catch-basin being there, it surprised me, and after looking closely I saw the opening cemented up. You would very much oblige me by an explanation, if possible. A READER.

A LUCKY TRIAL.

DEAR SIR: It affords me great pleasure to send you this voluntary statement of my experience in testing the merits of Joy's Sarsaparilla. For the past five years I have been troubled with an exceedingly sluggish liver, and within the past two years it has brought with it a thoroughly disordered stomach, including loss of appetite and distress after eating, pains in the back and kidneys, and boils around my neck and face. I have tried several remedies which are advertised as specially for the liver, and never could get more than temporary relief of about a week or two. I was recommended to try a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla as a test, and while taking the first bottle I became convinced of its merits for I could feel it was working a change in me. I have taken five bottles, and during that time my troubles have left me. Everything is working full and regular, in fact it has cleansed, purified and braced me up generally. I feel like a new man. You are at perfect liberty to use this as you see fit, or you can refer whom you please to
